COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Kimball Ames and the Directors of the Bethel Savings Bank recently authorized to have the Town Office redecorated. A new inlaid tile floor was laid this week. The walls and woodwork to be repainted within a few days. This will be a decided improvement in your Town Office. My personal thanks to Ames and the bank officers.

Recently the grader and loader have been cleaned and repainted. Also any minor repairs that were needed have been made. The dump bodies have been checked for breaks and welded if required and painted. Preventive maintenance is the best and cheapest in the long run. It is my desire to not only have equipment in good repair but to keep it cleaned and painted when needed.

The Selectmen have voted to purchase a new truck and dump body. The 1954 Chevrolet and body to be traded towards the new equipment. The requests for bids were mailed Tuesday. The truck will be purchased out of funds in the truck rental account. The purchase of the truck requires no appropriation by taxation. The bids will be opened at the April 24th meeting of the Selectmen.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

BETHEL INN TO ADVERTISE IN 23 NEWSPAPERS AS WELL AS FOUR NATIONAL MAGAZINES

Following up on the April 3 story about the 7,000 "Spring Mailings" put out by the Bethel Inn in its campaign to bring more summer visitors to Bethel this year, our inquiring reporter dug a little deeper into the subject of advertising and business promotion with our local Innkeeper, Guy P. Butler, and discovered that the direct mail solicitation is only a small part of the total effort being put forth this year in terms of dollars to be expended.

For instance, he found that a total of 219 advertisements have been scheduled in 23 newspapers serving 13 different cities or towns. In addition to nearby areas such as Berlin, Bethel, Lewiston, Norway, Portland and Rumford, the schedule includes advertisements in Boston, Hartford, Providence, Worcester, Springfield, New York City, and Wilmington, Delaware.

Nationally, the Inn will be represented this year in Holiday Magazine, Vogue, House and Garden, and Yankee.

Also on the national level, from the standpoint of distribution, its advertising will be found in such publications as the American Automobile Association Tour Book, the A.L.A. Automobilist, the Consolidated Tours Maps, the Keystone Automobile Club Directory, the Maine Publicity Bureau publications, Maine Invites You and Motoring Thru Maine, the New England Guide, the New England Hotel Association Tour Maps; the Boston Women's City Club Guide, Wrigley's Hotel Directory (Canadian), and the Digest of Distinguished Resorts.

Add to all of these publications of one sort or another, the twenty-five highway signs that cover all roads leading into Bethel, and the usual July and August spot announcements on radio stations in Norway, Lewiston and Portland, and it becomes fairly easy to figure that the Town of Bethel is getting quite a bit of advertising through the promotional efforts of the Bethel Inn; but, as Mr Butler told our reporter, "That's the way it should be, because people must be sold first on the town or area before they can be sold on becoming guests of any of its hotels or other lodging places."

OXFORD COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS

The spring meeting of the Oxford County Executive Committee of the Extension Association was held at Holden Hall in Bethel on Friday, April 11. Elwin Moulton of Hiram, president conducted the meeting. Extension Agents, Frank Hagan, Doris Ladd, and Ruth DeCoteau gave reports of the progress of the Extension program in their respective fields. Richard Bonniff, State County Agent Leader spoke to the group.

Committees for membership and annual meeting are to be appointed by the president at a future date. County Agent, Frank Hagan, was granted leave to attend a three-weeks summer school for Extension agents. Mrs. Aileen Knight was appointed 4-H Club Agent, replacing Russell Clark, who is in the service for a six-months period.

A baseball glove and a ball are part of the standard equipment of this time of year. The Maine State Police wish to remind all such young ball-hawks that kids who are really "on the ball" NEVER PLAY BALL IN THE STREETS!

U. of M. Professor Tells of Reading Habits and Teaching Practices

The eighth meeting of the Bethel P. T. A. was held at the Crescent Park School on April 14.

President Edith Eypper would like to have members that could go to a mental health meeting in Augusta on May 3.

On April 30 there is to be a district P. T. A. meeting in Auburn at 7:30.

Kay Eames reported favorable progress on the teen-age program—dancing and social evenings being held at the community rooms. These have been cleaned by the children and parents.

Dana Douglass informed the group that the committee was deciding on what to buy for the schools with money earned this year.

The next P. T. A. meeting on May 20 will have Larry Stuart, Conservation Educator, as speaker.

The sixth grade won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served by the first grade mothers.

Dr. James MacCampbell, Professor of Education of the U. of M., spoke on reading and reading habits in the elementary level.

Dr. MacCampbell pointed out that there are two levels of reading, which he called "comfortable" (reading for pleasure), and "frustration" level (such as students have to master in order to transmit the written message to a living and vital knowledge in the brain). He felt that the parental role in helping the child gain both of these levels was to surround the child with comfortable reading matter (pertaining to the child's interest) and to leave the "frustration" level to the teacher. He felt that teachers should point out that (or make the child aware) that actually there is reading to master in such subjects as arithmetic, social studies, history, art and that a child having difficulty with reading as a separate subject often can master it through the interest he might have in a certain subject or project (such as making a model airplane) and often learns to read on a "frustration" level (reading for knowledge rather than pleasure) without realizing that he has mastered the more difficult skill of reading.

Dr. MacCampbell also pointed out that the real burden of reading skill rests on the lower grade teacher—but that certain observant students do escape into the upper levels of our educational system, without having mastered reading skills and that many high school and college teachers express frank lack of knowledge as to how to teach reading to these miscreants, who might have reached a plateau where skillful reading suddenly becomes a necessity.

He felt strongly that our teaching system will not be ideal until we can maintain one teacher for every 20 to 22 students and that a skillful teacher can teach any normal child to read (whatever his mental block) with knowledge of many methods, now in practice.

GONE AGAIN!

The world-famous directional signs at Lynchville in Albany were removed from the supporting posts Saturday night. The signs were put up in August of last year, replacing a similar set which were stolen early that season. The original signs were much photographed and had been published in newspapers and magazines all over the world. Distances noted on the signs all refer to Maine towns.

Senior Play Promises Entertaining Evening

Final rehearsals for the Gould Academy senior play, "Holiday for Lovers," are under way twice daily in the William Bingham Gym, with the last two week-ends packed full of final polishing for its presentation on April 25th, with the curtain going up promptly at eight.

The playwright, Ronald Alexander, is well known for his light touch in the several farces he has written, notably in "Time Out for Ginger," which the Academy thespians presented to much local acclaim two years ago. That he has retained his clever touch was proved when Don Ameche and Audrey Christie took the leads in the current Gould play, opening at the Longacre Theater in New York in February of 1957, for a run which lasted well into the summer months.

Al Ordway, making his first appearance in Gould theatricals, and Jane Coffin, whose hilarious antics as a ninety-year-old grandmother in the recent Gould one-act plays had 'em rolling in the aisles, portray the Ameche and Christie parts respectively. Seen in key roles will be Sara Auh, Dayne Carlisle, Jim Hill, Jon Dave Cossie Chase, Bill Taillon, and Sue Merrill.

"First come first served" is the established ticket-selling policy with all seats unreserved at a standard low price, a five-man senior ticket committee is spear-heading a ticket drive to help insure a good house for this traditional "high spot" in the Gould school calendar of events. Tickets will often be on sale at the door on the evening of the performance.

CHARITY BALL A SUCCESS

The first Charity Ball held in the Rumford Armory Friday evening for the benefit of the Rumford Community Hospital was extremely successful. The decorations, under Mrs. John Lanni's guidance contributed to the gaiety following the "April in Paris" theme. On entering the armory one could purchase corsages and nosegays made by Mrs. Grace Coburn and sold by the Paradise flower vender, Mrs. Sadie Robertson. At the other end of the armory stood the Eiffel Tower built by Roland Gilbert Morais by Mrs. Richard Young, flowers at window boxes, street lamps, gilded stars and galleries in can-can costumes, who aided Mrs. Henry Hastings and her refreshment committee, contributed to the French Cafe effect.

Mrs. Murray Thurston and Mrs. John Lanni were very pleased with the financial success of this event where 600 guests enjoyed the music of Lloyd Rafnell's orchestra. The evening was a social success as well thanks to the many contributors who devoted their time and energies to the first Charity Ball sponsored by the Bethel and Rumford hospital auxiliaries.

MAINE CAR-OWNERS WARNED LESS THAN TWO WEEKS TO HAVE VEHICLE INSPECTED

Col Robert Marx today reminded Maine car owners that less than two weeks remain in which to obtain the April car inspection sticker.

"Don't wait until the last moment to take care of this semiannual obligation," urged Col Marx. "It is entirely possible that illness or some other unforseen event may make it impossible for you to get your car to an official inspection station during the last few days of the month."

The State Police head also pointed out that anyone who waits until the end of the month is faced with the necessity of standing in a long line of last-minute inspection seekers.

DEVELOPMENT OF BALD MT. SKI AREA NEARER REALITY

The development of a major winter sports area on Bald Mountain in Newry moved several steps nearer its objective Monday evening of this week when the Ski Area Organization Committee met at Gould Academy for a lengthy discussion. Readers of the CITIZEN will recall that the enthusiastic public meeting held on April 9 chose Howard W. Cole, Elwood F. Ireland and Dr. John W. Trinward to name the Organization Committee.

For the first meeting of the group, the following were asked to serve: Kimball Ames, Avery Angevine, Paul Bodwell, Guy Butler, Philip Chadbourne, Howard Cole, Stanley Davis, Charles Heywood, Elwood Ireland, Paul Kalley, Milton Mills, Herbert Morton Jr., Wilbur Myers, Addison Saunders, Murray Thurston, and John Trinward. Mr. Butler was elected Chairman of the Committee.

Following a brief summary of all the preliminary work that has been done by the Winter Business Committee of the Bethel Area Development Corporation, the new committee, which is in effect a public group representing all interests in the area, spent most of the evening discussing ways and means of expediting the project and forming a corporation to build and operate the necessary facilities. The entire group was finally divided up into four sub-committees, each with a specific task to be accomplished at the earliest possible date, as follows: to draw plans and obtain estimates on roads, parking areas and buildings, Messrs Angevine, Chadbourne, Davis, Morton, and Saunders; to draw plans and obtain estimates on ski lift and trails, Messrs. Bodwell, Kalley, Mills, Myers and Thurston; to consult with legal advisors and prepare for the incorporation, Messrs. Ames, Butler, Cole, Heywood, and Ireland; and to supervise publicity at the big Ski Convention in Portland this coming week end, Dr. John W. Trinward.

All of the sub-committees are expected to report on their respective assignments at another meeting to be held next Monday evening.

MRS. HASTINGS CHAIRMAN OF 1958 CANCER CAMPAIGN

Mrs Henry Hastings is chairman of the Cancer Campaign for Bethel this year. The House to House Campaign will be run from 6-8 April 29th. Mrs Hastings is experimenting with only a canvass, hoping the receipts will be higher than if they were divided among different projects. Therefore, as you will only be bothered once please give generously. She has appointed the committee as follows: Treasurer, Barbara Bryant; Publicity, Mary Chadbourne; Collecting of Workers, Helen Hillier and Pearline McMillin.

The solicitors for the drive of April 29th will be announced next week.

ANNUAL BLUE CROSS ENROLLMENT PERIOD OPENS APRIL 21

The annual Oxford County community enrollment period for joining Blue Cross or Blue Shield will be held during the week beginning April 21 according to an announcement by Walter P. Black, Enrollment Director of the Associated Hospital Service of Maine.

Representatives of the Service will be in the County for the week to discuss types of contracts and benefits available under Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans. All residents of the area interested in becoming members, or others now enrolled but wishing to revise their present coverage will have an opportunity to make the desired arrangements. A representative may be contacted through the Norway National Bank, Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway, Rumford Community Hospital in Rumford, Casco Bank and Trust Co. in So. Paris, Buckfield, Rumford, Bethel and the Rumford Bank and Trust Co. in Rumford, Canton and Dixfield.

The Associated Hospital Service of Maine recently announced that supplemental benefits in addition to the basic Blue Cross allowance may be arranged if desired. Recent increases in Hospital Room and Board charges have prompted Blue Cross to offer optional contracts providing as much as $18.00 per day. These contracts more nearly approximate the charges being made by hospitals today, and are optional with each subscriber.

A schedule of supplemental benefits and rates has been prepared and the Associated Hospital Service representatives will discuss them with anyone who may wish to take advantage of the added coverage.

He will discuss particular issues involved and will provide an opportunity for discussion.

At the evening session at 7:30, the Rev. Alden E. Matthews will be the speaker. He has recently returned from his post as a Missionary of the American Board serving in Japan.

The Ladies Club of the West Parish Church will serve a supper at 6:30 for all visiting delegates and to any visitors who wish to attend the sessions of the conference.

EDITORIAL

This Is Your Bethel—How Do You Like It?

The town of Bethel has long had the reputation of being conservative. In a way the community has enjoyed this name, whether it has been justified or not. Local critics for the past 100 years and more have been blaming the "other fellow" for their town's backwardness in industrial development, citing the attitude of a so-called powerful group which has been said to discourage enterprise of any description.

The town has repeatedly kept up with the times showing a progressive spirit at the proper times most effectively in years past it has not lagged in the construction of its village water supply, sewer system, or consolidation of its schools. Industrially, its progress has not been spectacular of course, but it does not compare unfavorably with similar areas.

The need of definite advance is admitted, and for this reason the Bethel Area Development Corporation was formed. The Industrial Committee of this group has made progress in interesting two manufacturers in locating in town, but naturally much cannot be reported in such matters until arrangements are completed. The Winter Business Committee was fortunate in locating land which was available for skiing development. Such a project can be reported and as a result it has had the major part of the publicity.

As has been stated in the Citizen's news columns, the Development Corporation has completed its part in the present winter business project. A committee named at last week's meeting of the interested public must now proceed with plans for the rest of the job.

There seems to be a misunderstanding among a considerable group locally as to the progress to be made by the Development Corporation. As news of the skiing project has overshadowed information that could be released on the industrial end, many have concluded that new business has been forgotten, perhaps intentionally. These opinions seem to be fostered by and add to have the support of many who have not attended any of the meetings held for discussion and for giving authentic information.

We believe that Bethel is most fortunate to have at this time an organization like the Development Corporation, which has already gained a substantial membership which has not only joined but contributed real money as evidence of their faith in their home community and its future.

NEW BOOKS AT THE BETHEL LIBRARY

"Kids Say the Darndest Things," by Art Linkletter.

"South by Jara Head," by Alistair MacLean, author of "H. M. S. Ulysses." Of all who wished to escape before burning Singapore fell to the Japanese, graying Brigadier Fainholme had the most urgent need to elude capture: in his belt were secrets holding a continent's fate.

"Steve Fletcher, U. S. Marine," by Charles Johnson. Here is an authoritative portrayal of life in a boot camp.

"Alabama Raider," by Betty Anderson. Here is a thrilling story of a young midshipman's adventures aboard the Confederate steam cruiser, "Alabama."
